

Message from Governor Neil Abercrombie

Aloha.

Hawai'i's unique location in the middle of the Pacific Ocean presents a place of unparalleled global learning and study.

Our learning institutions offer unique benefits for students—a diversity of cultures and people, ideal climate and natural beauty, and most of all, a range of universities, colleges, community colleges, and other places of learning.

Hawai'i is a world leader in fields such as international business, tourism, agriculture, astronomy, marine science, culinary arts, and language study. We respect and continue the traditions of our state's rich history; and we forge ahead in science and technology to meet the demands of an ever-changing future.

Hawai'i has both public and private institutions of higher education, large universities and small campuses. We offer a range of educational levels at the associates, bachelors, masters, doctorate degrees as well as certificate and short term non-credit programs in English as a Second Language.

We invite you to join us, to study at a quality higher education program in a healthy and advanced learning environment where the possibilities are endless.

Aloha,
Neil Abercrombie
Governor, State of Hawai'i
