

FREE CENSUS DATA WORKSHOP

ANNOUNCEMENT

“USING CENSUS DATA TO LOOK FOR TRENDS IN YOUR COMMUNITY”

The Papa Ola Lokahi (POL) Census Information Center (CIC), the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT) State Data Center (SDC), and its data partners are providing free, hands-on Census Data Workshops to learn how to use census population and business data to assess the community or service area of interest to you. Learn from the Census Bureau Data Dissemination Specialist how to work with prepackaged data products like the comparative and narrative profiles available for geographies within Hawaii; retrieving race/ethnicity, demographic, social, economic and employment data by using the revised American FactFinder tool and the Census Business Builder, a great tool for small businesses to visualize your competition and market. You will learn to retrieve decennial and American Community Survey data to create tables from topics of interest that will show trends for the past several years. All data and tools are available from the www.census.gov website.

Los Angeles Census Region Data Dissemination Specialist

Elaine “Lia” Bolden is a Data Dissemination Specialist with the US Census Bureau. Lia has extensive experience with the Census Bureau since 1988 and has worked on the 1990, 2000, and 2010 decennial census programs. She conducts outreach activities where Census data is disseminated through workshops and other activities for regional data users. Lia brings a wealth of experience and is an engaging speaker and trainer on the illuminating value of data on community transformation.

The POL CIC thanks the hosts for co-sponsoring data workshops: the Department of Native Hawaiian Health at the University of Hawaii, John A. Burns School of Medicine; La‘i‘opua 2020; the Kona-Kohala Chamber of Commerce; and the Maui County Business Resource Center. Space is limited for these workshops. To make a reservation, please contact the number associated with the island coordinator.
